Description of fiscal impact:

There is no anticipated fiscal impact as a result of this bill as offenders are already being prosecuted under another existing statute.

FISCAL ANALYSIS

Assumptions:

Department of Corrections

1. This bill would create the crimes of reckless driving resulting in death and careless driving resulting in death. The maximum penalty for these new crimes is incarceration not to exceed one year.
2. People who commit these proposed new crimes are currently prosecuted under the crimes of criminal endangerment or negligent homicide. Because the penalty for these crimes is 10 to 20 years offenders committing these new crimes are already subject to harsher penalties, resulting in no fiscal impact to the department.
